Good Luck "Cindy",
It's a big world
but somehow I know
you will do fine.
C.A. Ulrich
65

DEAREST CYNTHIA,
I HAVE NEVER SEEN A WORKER LIKE YOU IN GGOMATEY. YOU'RE SOOO LIKE TO GO FAR IN LIFE. LIKE I SAID WEAR YOUR BIKINI TO YACHT KLUGEN & I'LL GET YOU IN.

LOVE YA,
KLUGY

Cindy—
Must say its been a lot of fun in Govt. + Eng. this year - different to say the least. We learned so much, esp. from the "BRAID". Maybe we'll see each other down at Fenwick and raise hell down at Ocean City.
Best of luck always.
Love ya,
Vicki

Cindy—
What do I say— I guess I'll just say we will no longer meet again in Hollywood or the Riviera or . . . you & me, the only two who got A's from Jones without really trying

Chris Renaud
R.P.I.

P.S.
Get away from Georgetown long enough to visit me in Richmond.

Cindy:
It has been great knowing you this year in the class of '65." May God bless you in every thing you endeavor. Have fun in Sunny California."

Love Ya
Cheryl

BRANDY!

Cyndee Coffman

Cindy,
It's been nice knowing you for the past year. I'll never forget the skirt you made, and the cooking we did together. Stay sweet and good luck

Pat
'65

Cindy,
I've been sure to say a prayer for you every night. I'll never forget the "Love" I've had for you. Keep that smile on your face & have a great year.

Cindy,
I'll miss you a lot this year, and the B--- is an unbelievable girl who I'll never forget as a friend or as a sweetheart. Bobby Baby Love

TO CINDY:

THERE GOES THE GRADE BOOK!!!
I HOPE I SEE YOU AGAIN IN
GEO. SOMETIME — BUT YOUR A SENOIR — RAT — — — !!!!

Serving both the college-bound student and the one planning to pursue a career in a business office, the Business Department is the center of jammed typewriter keys, strenuous shorthand dictations, and carefully punched tabulations. Students planning to work follow a program which will give them adequate skill to earn a good position. Through the personal typing and notehand courses, the academic student can prepare to take better class notes and type his college term papers. A doubled enrollment in business courses added bookkeeping and clerical office practice to the department's curriculum.

Art

Angels, axoms, and atoms are guidelines to students in the Industrial Arts Department. With a variety of tools and courses such as General Shop, Mechanical Drawing, and Electronics, they are learning the processes of an expanding industrial society. Blueprints for next year include an Electronics II course and a full-time electronics teacher. Industrious hands busy with oils and covered in clay have shown the Art Department's great wealth of talent. To create new images for personal as well as public satisfaction was their main objective, fulfilled in paintings, sculptures, and abstracts. Imagination + creativiyt + ability = art.

Whether instrumentally or vocally, the Music Department has strived for perfection not only in performances but also in skills, mechanics, and in the basic understanding of music fundamentals. Scales, drills, and hard practices have developed student talents and have proven this department is outstanding in its field and a credit to Fort Hunt. With the aid of pots, pans, cookbooks, and sewing machines, students in the Home Economics Department have learned a variety of ways to cook and sew. The department itself has been designed and arranged as a "model home," and in this atmposphere the students have learned duties and responsibilities of home and community life.

Physical Education

Sponsoring all the athletic teams and intramurals is part of the duties of Mr. Smith, the Athletic Director. He obtained his B.S. from the University of Illinois and his M.A. from Columbia University. Before coming to Fort Hunt, Mr. Smith taught in Illinois, Kansas, and the District of Columbia. The goals of the Athletic Dept. this year included striving for better sportsmanship and raising funds for the department by increasing student attendance at sports' activities and by selling F. H. jackets and sweatshirts.

A student's physical development of strength, endurance, flexibility, and coordination is just as important as his mental development. The Physical Education Department provides these skills. Recreation skills such as softball, football, and archery, and safety skills such as tumbling and gymnastics are also an essential part of the program. Social development is stressed and fulfilled by the students participating on teams.

The Language Department has felt strongly that there is a need for student achievement in foreign languages. With this objective, it has coordinated a substantial program in foreign languages such as French, Spanish, German, and the language of the Romans, Latin. New courses this year were French V, Spanish V. German III, and Latin IV.

Kinetic energy = mass x velocity, and P − hD were only two of the new formulas presented to Juniors and Seniors for the first time this year in the physics classes. Other new courses were modern and traditional chemistry, and traditional biology, as well as the established BSCS version. The stimulants of science develop a student's ability and increase his awareness and interest in a car ereof science. Because we are living in an explosive aeg, teachers have stressed the importance of being knowledgeable in science.

Mathematics

Seniors found themselves analyzing all the "p's and q's" in their mathematical analysis class. New this year, the course is designed especially for students advanced in mathematics. The department also boasts of its course in calculus – pilot study, (SMSG). This is an experimental program designed for advanced seniors and is one of only 21 which are taught in the U. S. this year. Other courses added to the curriculum this year were Algebra I–part I, Algebra I–Pilot Study (SMSG), and trigonometry – solid geometry – functions, a course taught especially to Juniors and Seniors whose previous work has been with traditional math.

Social Studies

The year – 1965. The date – January 20 – Inauguration Day. This event, among many others, was studied by seniors in the U. S. Government class. Having a basic understanding of politics was only one of the objectives directed to students by the Social Studies Department. Teachers also worked to increase student understanding of economies – in the new Economics course – and social life – presented in the Sociology course. Two other courses new to the school's curriculum this year were Emergence of the Modern State and Modern History.

English

With heads together and hands busily writing, the English teachers met to evaluate the present curriculum of their Department. The results – a more flexible program for students in the future. Encouraged and stimulated by the recent emphasis on the teaching of English, they hope to present a program that will motivate student interest and evoke greater individual achievement by eliminating the repetition of content usually associated with the traditional English curriculum. With the introduction of a reading program and the reduction of the pupil-teacher ratio, they have been able to realize one of their main objectives – individualized instruction in the areas of reading and writing.

Guidance

A continuous stream of students and teachers with and w i t h o u t problems have found solutions in Fort Hunt's Guidance Department. Dedicated to advising, assisting, and assuring, the individual class counselors tackled the work of transferring, registering, and scheduling Fort Hunt's student body. With the rising of the first graduating class, the senior counselors spent many hours conferring with seniors about school records. Many catalogues from various colleges throughout the U.S. have been obtained and placed in the department for student reference. The needs of every student demand guidance. Fort Hunt's Guidance Department has helped fulfill these needs by showing a clear path to the student, then leaving the rest to him.

Mr. Davis, Mr. Kley

Mr. Davis, the Assistant Principal for Instruction, came to Fort Hunt last year from Flint Hill Private School in Fairfax County where he was Director. From Indiana State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, he received his B.S. and from George Washington University, his M.A. He has served as teacher and assistant principal in the Arlington County School System. Mr. Kley has served Fort Hunt High School for two years as Assistant Principal for Administration. Having received both his B.S. and M.A. in physical education from George Washington University, he became both a football and basketball coach in the District. He was athletic director and assistant principal at Lee High School; then he taught physical education at Groveton until he became assistant principal. Guiding students daily, he acts firmly on matters of importance to the school. He feels that Fort Hunt's first year was excellent and that it has even improved this year.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Gibbs

Mr. Gibbs attended Duke University and earned his B.S. degree in mathematics and physical education at William and Mary College in 1949. He further continued his studies at the University of Virginia where he received his Master of Education degree. From 1943 to 1946 he served in the Navy. Believing sincerely in a high school moral code in all phases of school life, he has strived to maintain class equality. With a focus on learning, he has stressed the importance of obtaining the best education possible, yet he has maintained a great deal of student freedom.

Spirit, spirit everywhere – haunting halls, the gym, the football field. The cheerleaders conjured excitement among spectators at many athletic events. Under a newly adopted constitution, based on a point system, the squads put forth greater efforts to be at their best. The girls began practice in July, to prepare for the first game. Organizing early morning pep rallies and decorating the boys' locker room were all part of a job well done.

Blazing summer heat, uniform pattern problems, complicated routines were unable to daunt the spirit of the newly formed Drill Team as they practiced throughout the summer and into the winter months to brighten up Fort Hunt's halftime activities. The 54 members, many of whom had never marched before, joined together to create a tradition of school spirit, which they hope will continue through the years. In spite of all the difficulties faced by a new organization, they were able to execute a number of routines at our home games with precision and grace and to bring honor to Fort Hunt by winning the first place trophy in the Washington's Birthday parade.

Cyndee,
The year is almost at an end existance. The shadows are fading fast. Then you recall those good, bright times.
And in a fleeting moment
perhaps each remember me.

God Love You
Annie

Grappling for a victory in a well-lighted stadium, nervous with expectation
as the game approaches.
Looking – to the coach for needed advice.
Bursts of cheering,
tense silence,
hard-earned harmony of a game well-played.

Renaissance music, sung in authentically styled period costumes, creates the setting for a performance by the newly formed MADRIGALS. Singing verses in English, Italian, German, Latin, and French, the group, composed of seventeen seniors, recaptures the spirit of the madrigal, characterized by intricate parts and complex harmony, representing each phase of development. With only a half-hour a day to practice, each member accepts the responsibility of learning music outside of school. A serious desire to sing and an abundance of interest is responsible for the quality performances given by the Madrigals at concerts, assemblies, and touring engagements.

"Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers . . ." has become a familiar sound to the seven, senior HARMONETTES going over parts at a Friday afternoon rehearsal. Harmonizing for such organizations as the Alexandria J.C.'s, a Keyette party at Gum Springs, and the Westminister Presbyterian church, the girls have been working together since the summer of 1963, when a common interest in singing began the long practice sessions with three pieces of music. Now a recognized member of the Choral Department, the Harmonettes have a large repertoire and the memory of many rewarding engagements.

Singing for pleasure and personal improvement, the BOYS' EMSEMBLE is made up of ten enthusiastic tenors, baritones, and basses. Close harmony and a cappella singing have been the main obpectives of the group. Participating in the Fall, Winter, and Spring Concerts and several outside activities, the Boys' Ensemble has had an active year of practice and performance.

"Okay, tenors, take it from the bottom of page 2 . . .," Mr. King might comment, as the preparation for an assembly or a concert, Schubert's Mass in G or Dido and Aeneas, gets underway. Achieving a successful chorus couples the ability to sing with basic improvement in music reading, rhythm counting, and independent singing. Competition for the first chair position or a solo part is complicated by a performance deadline and a folder full of new music to be learned. Pop quizzes, ticket selling, strange exercises, and facial gyrations have become an accepted part of the work behind the theme of all choral productions: "Quality Performance Through Careful Preparation."

Symphonic Band

From the depths of the blue, it roared, thundered and finally burst into full score: Victory at Sea by Richard Rodgers was presented in concert by the Symphonic Band. Composed of experienced and selected members, the band presented to parents and students classical compositions, novelty numbers, and blues in the fall, Christmas and spring performances. Many hours of hard practice prepared them for the Northern Virginia Band Festival held at George Marshall High School. In the practice sessions they concentrated on perfecting the fine details of the music.

L. Mustyan, drum majorette, J. Morse, J. Means, R. Kihlgren, J. Jarmon, M. Dirhan.

Majorettes

Stepping high, the Majorettes performed at least four new routines for spectators at home games. The girls' greatest benefit was being able to practice with the band during a daily class period. Decked out in tigerette outfits for the Powder Puff Football Game, they delighted students and faculty in their routines to such tunes as "Alley Cat." They promoted the sale of concert tickets and acted as ushers at all performances.

Future Nurses of America

Entering into the true Christmas spirit, the Future Nurses of America baked many "goodies" and made them available to the public at several bake sales. This supplied funds for a delightful party in the children's ward of a local hospital. Eager to be of service to the community, each of the members enthusiastically rendered her assistance in the nursing home in this area. The group also indulged in a bit of "apple polishing" by giving a tea for the faculty.

Future Teachers of America

Seeking more knowledge for their careers, the Future Teachers of America traveled to the Longwood Teachers' College in Farmville, Virginia, and to the National Education Association Building in Washington, D. C. Throughout the year, members took advantage of the opportunity to demonstrate first-class baking skills by having several very successful bake sales. Displaying their wide range of thoughts and ideas, the F. T. A. sponsored a "Best Male Legs" contest.

Future Homemakers of America

Home, health, and a sense of duty are only a few of the goals of our future homemakers. Knowing that personal as well as community improvement is a vital necessity, the members have performed various services for both school and home. The club is a member of the Lady Fairfax Federation, the Virginia Association, and the National Association. Projects included selling delicious donuts each morning, jewelry, and cookbooks. Both mothers and fathers were honored in the spring with banquets.

Fort Hunt's Rifle team, the Huntsmen, began a new season of shooting on November 10 under the direction and supervision of Mr. Hessler. The club was advocated by many students who wished to perfect their marksmanship. Out of the club's twenty-four members, eight were chosen to represent the group in matches and tournaments. The team members were chosen on their proficiency and high scoring ability. Matches with other schools were organized, and the team participated in N.R.A. sponsored tournaments.

Chess Club

As official members of the Metropolitan Area Chess League, the chess club entered into competitive matches against other area schools. The team also held matches within the club to strengthen each member's ability to "check" his opponent.

Coin Club

Organized late in the year, the Coin Club devoted most of its time to collecting coins and increasing its membership. Setting up a coin display at the front of the school was the club's main project as plans for several coin auctions were approved and enacted. Lacking in size and club funds, the members placed a heavy emphasis on personal coin collecting within the club.

Oils, palettes, paintings, progress, found the artistic students hard at work in their organization. Creating images and copying scenes, they captured the beauty and the sensitivity of art. Excursions to various galleries have provided enjoyment and inspiration to Art Club members.

Riding Club

Guided by Mr. Houser, the Riding Club strives to cultivate an active interest in all phases of horses and horsemanship. A series of lectures, sponsored by the club, were held covering subjects from equitation to riding apparel. Members were given a chance to improve their riding as well as to enjoy the sport during monthly morning rides that were held at the Woodlawn Plantation Polo Club.

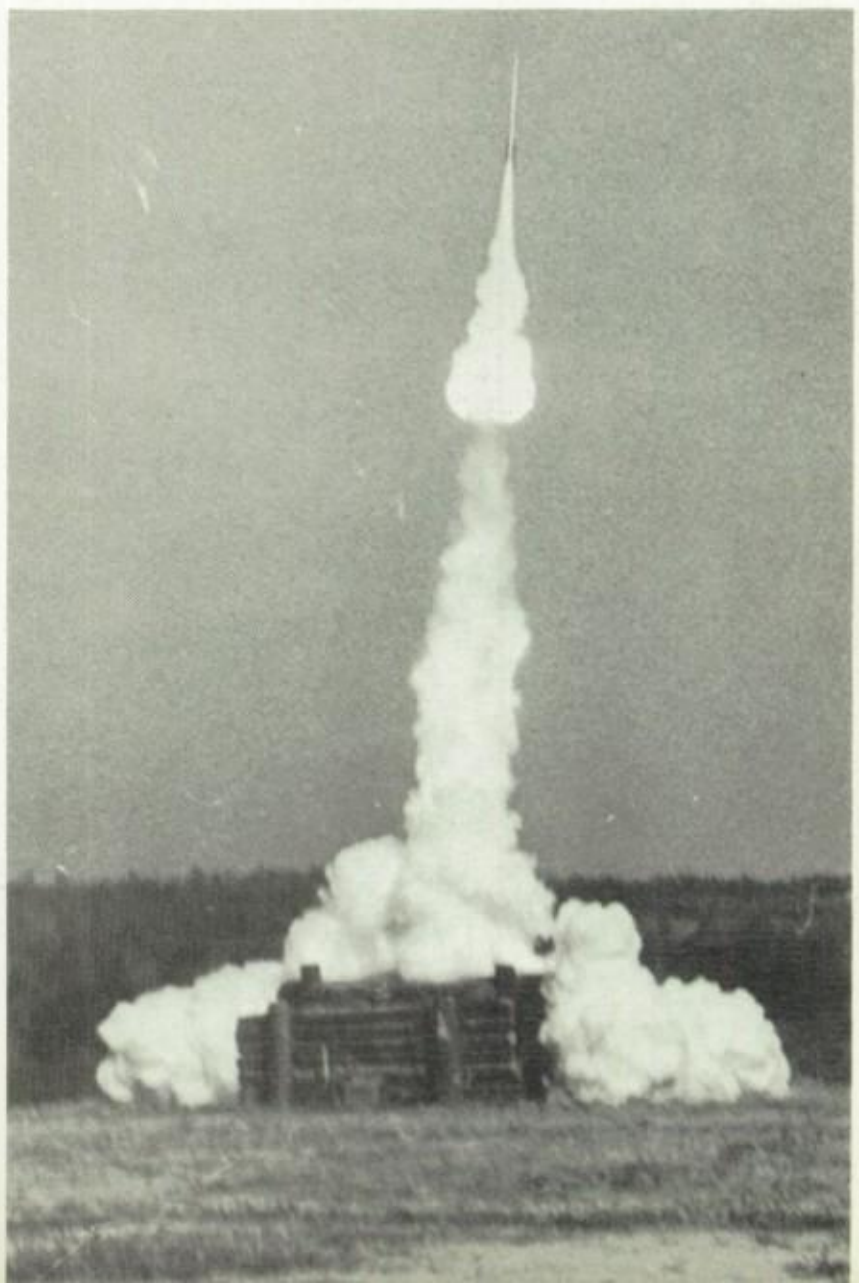
October, 1964, was the date the Miss Lake I thrust upwards into the air attaining an altitude of one and one-half miles. Other Miss Lakes followed. Experimental fuels prepared by the members themselves powered other missiles, as the Rocket Club delved farther into outer limits – equipped with scores of ideas and hopes, and aiming towards infinite possibilities.



Experimental rocket blasts off successfully from Camp Pickett.

Science Club

Strange creatures came out of hiding on the night of December eighteenth. Their three eyes riveted to the heavens, the members of the Science Club watched an eclipse of the moon using their third eye, a telescope. In their efforts to bring science closer to the student, they have initiated a program of weekly science activities consisting of student speakers and visiting scientists. In addition, they have sponsored a science exhibit for the school and have participated in several field trips.

Folk Music Club

Those melodious tones you may have heard floating down the corridors every Monday afternoon were not from the family phonograph but from the forty talented Folk Club members. Perhaps some day we may hear them on the Top Hits records. They have repeatedly thrilled the student body with their performances both at school and abroad.

International Relations Club

Hungary, Cuba, China, the world, invited here in films and words have in turn created student awareness of international relations. With a calendar filled with activities, the International Relations Club raised enthusiasm for foreign affairs throughout the school. Through the efforts of their club, Latin America greeted the Feds in displays and programs, but especially in people, for Fort Hunt-country welcomed the largest foreign exchange delegation, of any high school in the United States. IRC thoughts and actions studied the world.

Tri-Hi-Y

"Excitement-plus" was the theme as thirty-five students and Mrs. Gibbens were officially chartered as the Tri-Hi-Y of Fort Hunt High. Full of ideas, later released as projects, the girls enthusiastically sold tingling mints, provided curtains for faculty lounges, and as a part of the YMCA helped create an atmosphere of good will in their community.

"Who's got the team that's got the spirit?" . . . is easily answered by the hundreds of the green and white reminders placed throughout the school by the enthusiastic boosters of the Pep Club. Footballs for lockers and team room decorations extended a victory attitude to the team, backers, and everyone who visited Fort Hunt during the football season. Girls dressed in football jerseys, carrying a stuffed canvas opponent, beseiged the cafeteria with the spirit of an upcoming game. Banners, buttons, posters, and pennants relayed the feeling of spirit behind the basketball, baseball, wrestling, track, and hockey events, as the Pep Club furnished cheer sheets for fans to cheer their teams to victory. Concluding the year's activities, the Pep Club purchased a bulletin board for the gym lobby to honor the "Spiriter of the Month."

National Thespians

All those who enjoy drama must someday make the decision whether or not to enter the magic world of the theater or to remain always on the outside looking in. The Thespian Society seeks to aid them in their choice. The club has sponsored several school theatrical productions including: The Lottery, which was entered in competition with the Virginia High School League and James Thurber's classic Many Moons, for the Children's Festival. The Thespians rounded out their active year with a visit to one of the professional theaters for a performance followed by a backstage tour.

Quill and Scroll

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for high school journalists, is reserved as a distinct honor for those publications staff members who meet the basic requirements established by the society and its local chapters. Open to juniors and seniors, the society inducts students who rank in the upper third of their class and who have demonstrated superior work in their phase of journalism. All prospective members must be recommended by their publication supervisor and approved by the Executive Secretary of the Society. A new addition to Fort Hunt this year, the purpose of the club is to recognize excellence and promote journalism throughout the year.

Debate Club

FHHS boasts one club whose success is certainly not debatable, the Debate Club. There may be much controversy among its members, but they are all proud of the honors achieved in the University of Virginia Debate Conference, bringing back one championship, three distinguished, and four honorable mentions. Both affirmative and negative debaters, acknowledge that organization, experience, and practice are three vital assets to a good debater.

Keyettes

Serving this year in numerous ways, the Keyettes gave pert boutonnieres for the top administrators on the first day of school. They served in the community with an elaborate Christmas party for 250 children of Gum Springs and they made stuffed toys for the children's hospital in Alexandria. They adopted an Indian child, and they donated money to a fund for the building of a school overseas for the Peace Corps. Ever-active, original, and resourceful, the 1965 Keyette Club reported a low treasury, but a deserving motto: "We Serve!"

Key Club

With cooling sweat and the slice of a blade through air and lumber, the Key Club readied firewood for sale. Not only did members prevent pre-game traffic jams but, during games, original cheers were heard as the members urged the teams to victory. A Key Club effort sold Kiwanis Christmas trees, put wood and warmth into Gum Springs' homes, and lighted the band's music stands. The Key Club served.

"Cantemus!" —"Jingle Bells," "Deck the Halls," sung in Latin by the club members filled the halls and classrooms with Christmas cheer. The Ides of March have it! The first Roman Banquet in Caesar's style marked the date as the Fort Hunt chapter of the Junior Classical League paraded to the feast in togas, capturing the charm and antiquity of early Roman culture. Ad Legationem! The climax of activities was a trip to the Italian Embassy where a better understanding of Rome — past and present — was achieved. The Club members have, without a doubt, shown that Latin does live.

To prove their diligence in the study of Spanish, the Spanish Honor Society, along with the rest of the school, hosted seventeen exchange students from South America in a program singularly outstanding in the 1964-65 school year. They further imported Spanish culture through slides, films, and spicy dinners. Adding, color to the walls of Fort Hunt with a bright "Ole!", they have enriched the mechanics of learning the Spanish tongue.

French Honor Society

At French Honor Society Inductions, the new members are called creme de la creme both for their character and their understanding of the language. Using these attributes, members have set a goal of increasing interest in French, starting the year with a French lunch table at which only French was spoken. Foremost, the French Honor Society sponsored six French films to be shown once a month. The successful ticket sales indicated that the society had fulfilled its goal of increased interest in French.

A small gold pin with the letters CSLS identifies them, but National Honor Society members are better known for the qualities represented by those letters – character, scholarship, leadership, service. The character of the members is a guide for young Americans; they have set a high precedent for coming classes. To aid scholarship, the Honor Society offered tutoring and seminar programs. Honor Society members are recognized in leadership as initiators, reformers, advisers, seeking to better themselves, their school, and their community. The Honor Society rendered service by raising a college scholarship fund through College Clinic, by showing a film of a Shakespearean play, and by organizing a school paper-back book store. These four goals are the National Honor Society's guideposts down the path of honor and a better life for all.

The Turret, the art- literary magazine, is Fort Hunt's opportunity to publish its literary and artistic efforts. Its aims are to promote writing of poetry, short stories, and essays. In March the Turret staff attended the Columbian Scholastic Press Conference at Columbia University and entered a copy of our magazine in the nation-wide contests there.

the fortress

Cameras, layout sheets, snapshots, and a pressing deadline, designate room 106 as the construction point of the fortress. To present the real spirit of Fort Hunt is the challenge accepted by the yearbook staff, who have shot unexpected candids, covered sports activities and major events, and worked diligently all year to capture a meaningful memory for each graduating and upcoming student. Originality, in theme and presentation, and an emphasis on simplicity, injected with high standards for publication, mark the completion of the fortress as a successful climax to well-kept secrets and eager expectations.

The Block

"Buy the Block!" was a well-known phrase to students at the beginning of the year as block-sellers went from homeroom to homeroom collecting orders. Three publications packaged into one, the Block offered the Fortress, Front Line, and Turret for $8, payable in two installments. The purpose of the block was to help increase the quality of the publications without demanding the publications to compete with each other to raise adequate funds. The plan was a great success, selling over 1,200 subscriptions.

Student Council

Students were offered their first opportunity to participate collectively in a student government this year, as Fort Hunt became a member of the Virginia Co-operative Association. Headed by capable officers and diligent committees, the student body united to achieve various goals as demonstrated by such projects as the successful magazine drive, the Six Days of the Great Pumpkin, the Christmas canned food drive, a Foreign Exchange Program, and a Fort Hunt Honor Week. Spirits high, the SCA also published a student directory, decorated the school for Christmas, and added a student court, flag pole, movie screen, masonry marker, and several reading machines. Participation in the State SCA convention and the unceasing efforts of the entire student body built the foundation for Fort Hunt's SCA in the years to come.

New doors, thoughts, ideas –
A Federal amidst papers, pens
plans, projects

Unbound enthusiasm – Success in the Magazine Campaign
the special dance.

Sports – high school competition at last!
Spirits high were Freshmen.

Brandy

To the beautiful girl that will always have her handsome Love, "Bailey".
And you and Bailey and me (Lawrenza) & Denny will move into a little house and live happily ever after! After what??
When we go to California and Ocean
City and all those many places to catch up with all the boys, I don't if we'll ever stop chasing (& running). But it will be fun as hell so stay alive with all those exciting animals that are always trying to love you!

Bailey Denny

enliven and enjoy.
A deed done on a day dedicated to a great man.
Hands of newsprint
Joined to show that we care

Row 1. P. McCurry, L. Worthington, J. McComas, C. Brown, B. King, S. Harder, M. Fraley, E. Schwartz, W. Harn. Row 2. C. Card, L. Burleson, S. Spencer, H. Kirshrot, B. Patterson, M. Cougherty, J. Andrews, S. Weissman, C. Conley, W. Armstron.

Remember me when Denny & I are old with 5-10 children running around our huge house at Rodeo
So be a little little sweet nice girl with all your men folk. See you tonight at Florida California Boston

Brandy-

From Florida to California; from beach to beach - Really, really too much! Meeting Bailey (my fault) - from Georgetown parties to Univ of Florida beach - and John. Gez, this year - what haven't we done?? The melodramatic affairs of Brandy, Louisa, and Delany. May you have many, many years of happiness, Cynthia. Whatever you find or obtain, or see; remember all the good times the three of us have had.

Merry Christmas

Hands, straining individually, striving and sharing together symbolize Fort Hunt. Outstretched hands of friendship, hands molding ideas and traditions of our new school, and hands making memories so fresh and bright that they are hardly memories yet. Through the hand of introduction, the staff would like to present to you, the students of Fort Hunt, the 1965 fortress.

"All the world's a stage,
and all the men and women merely players."

The fort is the center stage holding in her hands
the tragedies and comedies of four years.

A new year,
new faces,
new hopes.
The fort is happy,

the kids are back again,
with a gentle reminder that—

Cindy It's been fun in government class this semester. I've agree, I hope that you don't have the best of luck
in the years ahead.
Love
Art Strickland

Cindy,

It was kind of a boring year in English I'm sure you'll agree. But Oh well it's almost gone. I haven't seen you to much in the last 2 yrs, but I do remember the party you had about 4 or 5 yrs ago. What fun !!? I sure you like are looking forward to English Exam. (Sure Yeah for eddiquette, you know like pushing your hair in English, Stumble), committing fraud by eating in English class and then what !!, putting trash in your desk, Miss Jones was fairly picky wasn't she don't you think.

Have a good time this Summer.

Love,

Corky

Cindy,
Well mine had some really hell raising time, too bad they can't continue. Gayle out and I'm in this school for 2 more years. I hope to see you this summer so we can raise some more hell. Have a good time and don't stay away from Orange too long they might miss you. Callie

Illuminated by inspiration, new ideas flood through the fort and dissolve in the flow of scholars producing leaders
as yet not honored.
Then silence fills this mass of stone as it awaits
the recurring seasons;
the lonely halls eagerly anticipate the return of happy students.

Cindy, I'm sorry I forget "good ol' Blevins" every day. I probably will. Have a nice time at the Governor's Beat of Texas this summer. Good luck always. Cindy

The fort vibrates with the groping hands of the learner, led by the helping hands of the teacher, each striving for his goal.

Cindy, I thought I'd see you this year, remember Milo's class and the times in the restroom. I hope I see you this summer. Good luck always.
Betsy Norman

Cindy, Well finally your at college. Glad you didn't quit high school. Went through with it. Good luck with boys, etc. etc. etc. It's been fun in Longmont and fun in hell every day, a little fun. Love ya, Dave '67

New seed was sown . . .
from it grew a fort as alive as the heartbeat of her student body with powerful foundations of scholarship, ingenuity,
leadership, talents, and integrity.

No man can feel himself alone
The while he bravely stands
Between the best friends ever known
His two good, honest hands.

Hi! Brandy Hi! Hi!
Here we are together at last in Jones class. June 9th I just cannot believe it. I'll never forget Boston as long as I live! Boy! That house! Oh Brandy, me & Pat don't believe it. I'll never forget Boston as that only yesterday you, me, & Pat were together look at us. By the way you haven't changed a bit except the hair, I have no room to talk. Don't Foget at O.C. also I will see you & tell Barbara Long Beach Brandy, I'll I can say is I'll see you all my

What to say? — We have a great year and everyone seemed to enjoy it; but there were times we tried to get away from it all. I'll never forget our friend in sociology. We have been friends for a long time and I hope we will continue to be the best of friends forever. Remember MR. LYONS class last year!?! — I hope I see a lot of you this summer — we will raise a little hell — lets plan on going to see Susie & Sandy sometime OK.

Cyndie,
I believe that's how you spell it. Weee Glad you're graduating because you're not going to Georgetown if that's where I'm wrong Really good Really good and it has been nice having you here. Please come and visit me in the Crue if I can still have fun!
Sandi I'll BELIEVE

Cindy,
The good looking member of the D.A.R.
but I won't hold it against you. Well
Blondie, when are you going to clear that tuff face bathing suit to school again.
Lots of Ruck
John Schaffer

Cynda, It's been great having you in my two favorite classes.
Someday when you're a little mother with 6 kids, living in the suburbs. I'll come and visit you.
Seriously, I wish you all the best of luck in the future. I know you'll have fun in Florida.
Bee Good!
Love, Jeanne

Cindy, DAR luck - Oh well - just think, it increases your amiability with Blevins. doubt. This summer when you don't have my thing to do, I'll meet you at MacDonalds (with Kladites)
To remember the good old times (?) Don't take the corners so fast,
and be careful.
